SRA. D (LARA PADILLA)

Biography

The alias Mrs. D stands as a protest against women's loss of identity when they get married, automatically giving up their surname to acquire their husband's. This is something that still happens in many countries, becoming an implicit part of the commitment between a man and a woman. Through her work, Mrs. D seeks to represent all those women who seek their emancipation. Women of no one.

Lara Padilla lives and works between Madrid, Miami and New York. As a multidisciplinary artist, she uses painting, dance, sculpture, film and fashion as means of plastic expression. She combines texture and movement, canvases and garments that allow her artwork to travel between different social and professional contexts.

With a degree in Fine Arts from the Complutense University of Madrid and a Master in Film Photography Direction from the TAI School, she has participated in solo and group exhibitions both at a national and international scale (Museo de Zapadores de Madrid-November 2020- or Art Basel Miami 2019). In addition to her artistic career, she has exploited her profile as a fashion designer, collaborating with clients such as Springfield, Pepe Jeans and Levis. She also collaborates actively with Patricia Field, the stylist from series like "Sex In The City" or "The Devil wears Prada", for her project Patricia Field Art Fashion, creating unique hand-painted garments.
