LANTOMO

Biography

Antonella Montes, Lantomo (Rome, 1977) studied Architecture at the University of Rome and is a self-taught artist and illustrator. She currently lives in Barcelona, where she has completed a Master's degree in Architecture, Art and Ephemeral Space at the UPC and where she presented her first exhibitions at Mitte Art Space and Mutuo Centro de arte, among others.

After a long period in China, which greatly influenced the development of his technique, he decided to devote himself to his passion. She has experienced the contrast of cultures between East and West, and this has helped and inspired her artistic creation. Her drawings try to reveal small mysteries, fears and surprises hidden in the soul, which are difficult to see without absolute attention. Drawing is her tool of expression, with all the patience and labour that this implies, direct and accessible in its lack of abstraction. The faces and eyes of her characters are Lantomo's vectors of communication.
